Training Courses:

The Department is in process of creating new grant trainings that are posted below as they become available.

Allowable Cost and Activities

This 60 minute course provides ED grantees and subgrantees a high level overview of the concepts and regulations behind using Federal grant funds for allowable costs and activities. Divided into two modules, the course addresses the objectives presented below. At the end of each module, participants are asked questions that will gauge their understanding of the covered topics, but no score or grade will be given.

After completing this course, you should be able to:
- Identify key laws and regulations that guide the use of Federal funds for grant costs and activities
- Understand how Grant Award Notifications, grant applications, and state plans impact allowable and unallowable costs
- Explain the process of receiving Federal grant funds
- Describe the roles and responsibilities of the grantee in managing Federal grant funds
- Identify the types of allowable and unallowable costs
- Understand the importance of financial management and reporting in grant administration
- Explain the role of the grantee in ensuring compliance with Federal grant regulations
